

D'Appolonia Elected In Keen Campaign

Poll 102 Majority Over Ex-Councillor Wm. White—New Faces on Council and School Board.

THE NEW MAYOR

Monday's election for the offices of mayor, councillors and school trustees was reminiscent of the keenly contested elections of 1932 and 1934, when the Communist party was very active in the Crows Nest Pass towns. This time the interest of ratepayers was keenly aroused over the majority contest between former Councillor William White and John S. D'Appolonia, the latter securing a majority of 102, which exceeded the forecast of the balloting even by the successful candidate's supporters.

In 1932 it is recalled that former Mayor Pattinson was elected over Charles Makin by a narrow margin of six votes. In 1934 Mayor Pattinson was opposed by Andrew Dow, when he was re-elected by a majority of 123 votes. In 1936 and 1938, he was returned by acclamation. This year, though it was the wish of many ratepayers that he again stand, he declined, having completed fourteen years of office as councillor and mayor.

After the mineworkers' slate of candidates had been announced, with William White as the majority candidate, John S. D'Appolonia was prevailed on to accept nomination by ratepayers who were desirous of seeing the business interests of the town represented. A keen campaign was carried on by both parties, with the result as shown in the polling. There were more votes polled this year than in the 1934 contest for the majority, in that year the total being 395, while this year it was 433.

Another interesting point is that ratepayers now make far fewer errors in marking ballots. In 1934 there were two ballots spoiled in voting for mayor, 31 for councillors, and the surprising number of 137 for school trustees. This year in the same order the spoiled ballots were: for mayor 1, for councillors 1, and for trustees 7.

The polling passed without any untoward incident. There was the usual order on the part of those who had failed to register on the voters' list in September and October last, as required by the Towns Act, and who were unable to vote. Despite warning being given every year of this requirement, there is always a number who neglect complying. The returning officer, Alex Balloch, and the election clerks, Miss Gladys Lees and Miss Audrey Halliwell, completed their tasks without any complaints being lodged by candidates or their supporters. J. M. Allan was official counter and recorder of the ballots.

Chief Antle and his assistant, John Nikituk, spent a peaceful day, not being called on to quell any disputes among voters, who at times engaged in heated arguments over contentious points. Scrutineers were J. Spievak and J. Rushton for mayor and council, and M. Joyce and T. McCloy representing the mineworkers.

The centre of interest was in the majority contest, and immediately the result was announced, telephone calls continually rang into the newly elected mayor's home extending congratulations, while many called to personally congratulate him and spend an enjoyable evening.

The election for councillors resulted in former Councillor W. Chapman losing out by eleven votes to George Ford. Angelo Gentile, as anticipated, topped the poll, as he was bound to receive votes from both factions. Had Mr. Chapman had a more active campaign committee, he would likely have fared

HELEN CAPTURES A BUTTERFLY

Helen Rogers, gleefully clasping a glass jar in which fluttered a brilliantly colored butterfly, brought to the attention of The Journal on Thursday last the first harbinger of spring.

The butterfly was caught in the Rogers' home when it flew in through an open window. On Helen it bestowed the honor of having her name recorded as having reported the first sign of Spring.

Talking of butterflies, Mrs. Holstead had a couple of pets which she fed and watered for several days in the basement of her home. It is thought that the warmth of the furnace caused them to come to life from a cabbage which was in the basement. One day while the window was open they decided to take a flight and were not seen again. Possibly one flew in Helen's window.

better, for his opponents had a hard-working committee who lost no opportunity of getting out the candidates.

The same reason for R. M. Greenhalgh's defeat may be. He had served four years as trustee, and many took it for granted that he would be re-elected. However, two new aspirants, young men, in whose behalf their supporting committee worked intensively, were easy winners. John Lloyd, a native-born son of Coleman, and who received his elementary education in Coleman schools, topped the poll with 399 votes, a clear margin of 101 over former Trustee Greenhalgh, who Joe Janostak getting 365. It illustrated the well-known maxim that elections are not won by prayers, but by organized effort.

Commenting on the results, Mayor D'Appolonia stated that now the voice of the ratepayers has expressed their desires, he hopes that all members elected will co-operate for the progress and welfare of the town. To achieve the best results, this is necessary, and he expressed his appreciation of the confidence shown in him by the voting.

CARD OF THANKS

To COLEMAN RATEPAYERS:

Your confidence, expressed by Monday's balloting, in selecting me as Mayor for the next two years, I will endeavor to repay by sound administration and progressive policies by which all in Coleman will benefit. The carrying on of local affairs in the interest of all requires time and study, and I take up the duties of office with the determination to give you efficient and progressive local government.

Yours faithfully,
JOHN S. D'APPOLONIA.

CARD OF THANKS

Appreciation is expressed for the whole-hearted support given me in the election for councillor on Monday. I pledge myself as a councillor to always support any progressive move which is in the best interests of the citizens and the town.

ANGELO GENTILE.

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks are expressed to all ratepayers who supported me in the recent municipal election for councillors. Special thanks are extended to Messrs. Joyce and McCloy scrutineers. It will be my constant endeavor to serve the people of Coleman faithfully and support all worthwhile civic enterprises.—George Ford.

Canada Mourns Death of Governor-General

CANADA MOURNS

THE radio announcement on Sunday afternoon of the death of Canada's governor general, His Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir, in Montreal, brought a two minutes' interval of sympathetic silence in Canadian homes. While listeners were laughing over the jokes of the Jack Benny broadcast, there was a sudden stoppage of the program, and following a brief dramatic pause, came the sad news of his passing. In his almost five years as governor-general and personal representative of the British Crown, he had endeared himself to the hearts of Canadians, and genuine sorrow is expressed throughout the whole of this Dominion.

His name will live in his books, which, as John Buchan, had made him widely known before his appointment to Canada as Lord Tweedsmuir.

BISHOP CARROLL'S TRIBUTE TO BARON TWEEDSMUIR AND DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES

Following are passages from a circular letter sent to the faithful of the Diocese of Calgary by His Lordship, Francis P. Carroll, bishop:

"In these days when the heresy of State Absolutism would rob the individual of God-given rights and set Caesar upon the throne of the Almighty, when the unjust aggressions and arbitrary claims of Absolute States have plunged the world into the horrors of war, Canadians should be grateful that our beloved country is ruled by a government which is established by themselves, is intended for their good and is in harmony with their ideals and their aspirations. We possess a form of government which recognizes God, freedom of conscience and other precious rights which God has given us, and is worthy of our unfeigned loyalty and complete allegiance.

"Representative government, such as we enjoy, demands an institution which is above the turmoil of politics, represents the permanent majesty of the people, symbolizes for them supreme civil authority, and is the embodiment of law and order. Such an institution is the office of Governor-General—an office which requires in its holder the characteristics of duly constituted kingship."

Independents Will Nominate Candidate on Tuesday Next for Alta Provincial Election

Enthusiastic Determination Expressed by Standing Vote to Unite in Support of Movement—Lundbreck Is Convention Point at 8 p.m.

Lundbreck, geographical centre of Pincher Creek-Crows' Nest constituency, was the rallying point on Tuesday evening for nearly a hundred men and women from all parts of the district, who expressed their determination by a standing vote to support an independent candidate, for which an open democratic nominating convention will be held next Tuesday, Feb. 20, at Lundbreck, at 8 p.m.

Under the joint chairmanship of Capt. Ed. Donkin, president of the Independent Association, organized last summer, and Howard C. McBurney, of Coleman, the meeting engaged in free discussion on aspects of the political developments in the four years since the Social Credit government was elected, and it was the opinion of all that if a remedy is to be applied to prevent the extravagances in provincial government which are causing heavier burdens of taxation, an independent candidate, receiving the support of all in favor of the movement, irrespective of former political affiliations, must be put in the field and given the necessary support to ensure victory.

The convention will be open to all who desire to support an Independent and Labor men of the Crows' Nest Pass, as well as the ranching and farming people of the prairie, will meet on equal terms to discuss the nomination of a candidate and the adoption of a platform on which to appeal to the electorate.

That the time is ripe for Independent action was evident from the opinions expressed by men from all parts of the district. It was the best and most enthusiastic meeting held since the nucleus of the Independent Association was organized last July, with Capt. Donkin as president, and Ed. C. Comstock, of Bellevue, as secretary-treasurer.

On the executive are representatives of all towns and rural areas. All interested are asked to take this as an invitation to attend the convention next Tuesday. Posters will be issued to advertise it as widely as possible throughout the constituency.

John Pietraszko Died in Genoa After Operation

Brilliant 22-year old Violinist Was in Warsaw During German Bombardment Last Summer.

Three years ago last October John Pietraszko, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Pietraszko, left Coleman for Warsaw to continue advanced studies as a violinist under a scholarship award by the Polish Society of Canada. He was in Warsaw during the bombardment of the German-Russian invasions of that hapless city, and a month later managed to make his way to Genoa, Italy, whence he had planned on getting back to Canada.

In October he was admitted to hospital and operated on, and hoped to leave for Canada on his recovery. In January he was again operated on, and the first intimation that he was in a serious condition was revealed in a letter written by a sister of the Italian Red Cross in Genoa.

A few days later another letter came from the Rev. J. H. Coles, English chaplain in Genoa, who had struck up a friendship with John while he was in hospital, which announced his death. He was buried in Genoa. John had been hopeful of returning to Coleman, and to his sister, Miss Balbino Pietraszko, he referred to former friends here, and asked to be remembered to them.

The news of his passing was received here with profound sympathy for his sister and brother Tony. He was born in Coleman, and first took lessons under Mr. Harris and Mr. Moser. His father died in 1923, and his mother three years later. His many friends throughout the Pass were deeply grieved to learn the sad news.

DEATH OF JOE PANEK, WEST COLEMAN

After four years of intermittent illness, Joe Panek, resident here for 18 years, died on Tuesday at his home. He was nearly 52 years of age, his first wife died some years ago. Subsequently he again married. By his first marriage a family of four boys and two girls survive, and by his second marriage there are two children. A married daughter lives at Burnis. He last worked in 1936 as a miner. He came to Canada 33 years ago from Czechoslovakia.

Requiem mass will be sung at Holy Ghost church on Friday at 11 a.m. and will be followed at his home this evening (Thursday) at 7.30.

WEEKLY PAPERS LEAD IN ALBERTA

Publishers of weekly newspapers are anxious to look to the future with confidence because of wider recognition of their value as potent advertising mediums, says Harry J. Ford, publisher of the Lacombe Globe, and president, Alberta Division of the Canadian Newspaper Association, in a message to fellow publishers through Canadian Printer and Publisher.

"This striking fact has been reflected in the increased advertising linage carried by the weeklies. That this advertising is getting results is no doubt due to the strong reader interest which the home weekly enjoys," says Mr. Ford. "Value of the country weekly is further evidenced by results of a survey conducted by the department of extension, University of Alta, throughout the youth training schools of rural Alberta during 1939.

"Questionnaires completed by hundreds of students revealed that in their respective households, the weekly newspaper held a strong lead over every other publication taken in by them. Here are the figures: 72.6 per cent get the local weekly newspaper; 34.5 per cent get a daily; 21 per cent get farm papers; and 27 per cent get other periodicals."

The Journal has been asked to announce that the winner of the pillow case at the St. Alban's Guild tea at Mrs. Hoyle's home was Mrs. Jimmy Evans.

Whiteside wins McGillivray cup. The final game of the competition was played between Whiteside and Boulton, the former winning 10-4. During the first few ends of the game both rinks displayed some beautiful curling. Particularly was this the case on the third end, when not a rock was played or passed through the house, and there were thirteen stones in the rings, while the remaining three were but a foot or two out in front.

CONSERVATIVES TO HOLD NOMINATING CONVENTION WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21

Over the name of G. Ryder Davis, president, a meeting to nominate a candidate to contest the Federal election in support of the policies of Dr. R. J. Manion for a national government will be held in the town hall, Macleod, next Wednesday afternoon, February 21, at 2 o'clock, to which all supporters for the policy of a national government are invited.

EDMONTON DOG SHOW

The seventh annual dog show in Edmonton will be held March 25th and 26th at Memorial Hall, Edmonton. Last year's out-of-town entries were double the total in 1938, and another increase is expected this year. Cancellation of big shows in the east, due to the war, is resulting in substantial numbers of entries here, so that dogs can continue to win their points in national standings. Mrs. John Proctor, 12729 Stony Plain Road, is sending entry forms and premium lists to applicants. The show is sponsored each year by the Junior Hospital League and all proceeds go toward the treatment and education of crippled children in Alberta.

KNOW THE TRUTH

Someone on the council said that people living on the hill pay the most taxes. Just near our office on a 25-foot lot and residence, taxes cost about $180, and there isn't a sidewalk fronting the property. Just a reminder that the gentleman is incorrect, the lot on which this printing office stands is assessed considerably higher than any lot on Main Street. These figures will correct any false impressions some may have on assessments.

Mr. John Rucka, who has been very ill with pneumonia since the latter part of November, is now improving and hopes to start light work about March 1.

The Aftermath Of War

If history repeats itself, war invariably brings unpleasant aftermaths in its train in the form of economic depression, unemployment, disputes over peace settlements between the combatants and bickerings over indemnities and war debts. Similar uncomfortable manifestations may be expected as aftermaths of the war which Canada and the Allies are presently engaged, unless some thought is given to these problems in plenty of time to devise and shape policies to prevent them.

Considerable attention is already being given to the question of peace settlement terms by various authorities on both sides of the Atlantic and this augurs well for this problem being settled in such a manner that the terms will not sow the seeds of a future war and will provide a reasonable measure of security against aggression, with the smaller democratic countries as a target. Numerous suggestions have been made with this objective in view, some of them impracticable, no doubt, no matter how desirable they may be. But the value of these suggestions being made at the present time lies in the fact that they are provocative of much thought and considerable discussion and will lead to crystallization of world thought by the time the war is over and peace terms have to be concretely considered. By that time views may be well digested and there will be no necessity to make hasty and ill considered decisions.

There is another matter, however, which will have to be faced at the same time, or very soon after, and that is the question of war debts. The debts incurred in the first great war resulted, as everyone will remember, in a great deal of bickering, ill feeling and mutual recriminations between some of the debtor and creditor nations. It is to be hoped that after this war is over reasonable settlement and compromises can be effected, so that similar displays can be subsequently avoided.

What interest the United States will have as creditor of the Allies after the close of the current war is problematical, in view of the fact that the Americans at present are selling munitions and war supplies to Great Britain and France strictly on a cash and carry basis. In the event of the war being a lengthy one, it is possible that the United States may modify its terms and extend credit, rather than lose a great deal of lucrative business.

Of Interest To Canada

The question, however, is one of considerable importance to the people of this country, since undoubtedly this country will extend considerable credit to both Great Britain and France, especially if the war is protracted. That this country is willing to consider transacting business on this basis when, and if it becomes necessary, is practically certain, for, as Wellington Jeffers, financial editor of the Toronto Globe and Mail says, "they" (Canadian statesmen) "consider the British and French to be 'good pay' and 'willing pay' even after a close study of the experience of the United States with money lent them."

"In fact," continues Mr. Jeffers referring to the war debt experiences after the war of 1918, "it is hard for Canadians to study the whole question without feeling that a continuation of close Allied co-operation for some years after the war to clear up difficult situations could have so arranged this matter that the European countries would not have had to be humiliated by being placed in a position where it was impossible to pay the amounts set forth in the bond by sending goods over the tariff, and the United States would have benefited materially in prestige and wealth and trade by settlements on the basis of realities."

According to Weldon Lloyd, an American writer, in his book "The European War Debts and Their Settlement," when the British debts to the United States were funded in 1922-25, Great Britain still owed the U.S.A. a balance of $10.4 billions after having already paid $651.4 millions.

See U.S. As Debtor

On the other hand M. Cheradame, writing in Le Français Realiste in 1929 shows a credit balance for the Allies of $625 millions, if the United States had been willing to recognize as a bill, the amount of money that country had saved by remaining out of the conflict for 15 months. Cheradame estimates that with an army of 2,084,000 in the field the cost to the United States of 465 days of warfare it avoided by delayed entry, would have been $8.5 billions and with interest it would have amounted to $11.9 billions by 1929.

After referring to defaulted debts of the United States to both France and Britain, incurred in earlier days, Mr. Jeffers appropriately comments: "There is ample material here for a cleaning of the international slate and stopping for all time of the bickering and contentions that go with disputes about money," and suggests that since cross credits worked out well between Britain and Canada in the last war, there is no reason why they should not do so in this war.

Effective Police Work

Efficiency Of The Royal Canadian Mounted Police At High Standard

Efficiency of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is at a high standard according to the report of Commissioner S. T. Wood for the year ended March 31 last which was made public recently.

"The force at no time in its history has been better prepared to deal with its great variety of duties than it is to-day," said the report. "It has rarely been as ready and able."

"This state of affairs is attributable to several causes, not the least of which is the excellent training which was instituted by my predecessor (Sir James MacBrien) several years ago, and which has been steadily maintained and improved and the determined adherence to the principles underlying it."

"It has been possible during the past few years to create a training school or police academy at Regina which has already undertaken the work of a national training centre. The officers in charge have kept an open mind and have been ever on the alert to embody in the syllabus any item which has proven its merit."

Cases dealt with by the force during the year showed an increase of 5,372 compared with the previous year. The total was 65,745.

Offences against provincial statutes showed the largest increase and numbered 28,250. Criminal offences were also more numerous at 23,330, but offences against federal statutes other than the criminal code were slightly fewer at 15,165. The cases under criminal code and provincial statutes occurred mainly in the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, in which the force does provincial police work. The totals do not include cases in other provinces handled by other police forces.

As many complaints turned out to be unfounded, the actual number of criminal cases brought to trial was less than the previous year.

The report does not cover the period since the outbreak of war but it mentions certain precautionary measures taken in view of the danger of war. The force co-operated with the department of national defence in securing the assistance of provincial authorities and private corporations in plans for the prevention of sabotage and the protection of public utilities and vulnerable points.

Inventions Being Perfected

Many Will Be Fortune Makers In Few Years Time

There are many new inventions that are now being perfected. In 10 years time, very likely they will be making fortunes for those who market them.

New ways have been found to obtain heat and power from the sun. There are already several hundred solar water-heaters in California.

It is now possible to make a wall emit light, by coating it with fluorescent materials.

Nonmetallic bearings, lubricated with water instead of oil, can now be made from plastics.

Last year a new film called "Nylon" was patented. It is made from coal, air and water, and is said to be as strong as steel.—Efficiency Magazine.

Tribe In Africa Had Clever Idea For Becoming Prosperous

By using sour milk on their porridge, the Zulu-like people of Swaziland, Africa, are prospering. According to a government report just issued in Embabana, the capital, the natives now take their milk to government separating stations. After the cream is removed and purchased the sour milk is returned to them. The money thus received is reported to be making the Swazis "quite a prosperous tribe."

Called Too Early

A couple of tourists called at a Maine farm house of an early morning recently. "We were wondering," spoke up the lady, "if we could get a glass of fresh milk?" "Now that's too bad," sympathized the housewife, "but you see we live quite a ways from the city, and the milkman hasn't got here yet!"

Selected For Experience

Women Pilots Doing Important Work Are All Veteran Flyers

Nine women, first feminine members of a new wartime organization known as the Air Transport Auxiliary, daily report for duty at an air-drome near London. Their job is to ferry pilot-training planes from factories to Royal Air Force depots "somewhere in the United Kingdom."

Headed by 29-year-old Pauline Gower, daughter of Sir Robert Gower, Conservative House of Commons member for Gillingham, Kent, this exclusive squadron includes women specially selected for their experience in flying. None of them has had less than 600 hours flying and Miss Gower has had 2,000 hours.

Baby of the corps is 22-year-old Joan Hughes. She learned to fly at the age of 17 before she had left school and has for some time been a flying instructor at Romford, Essex.

Miss Gower holds rank as First Officer. The remaining eight members hold rank of Second Officers. They receive salaries of £100 a month. They will have additional duties of flying distinguished service personnel to France.

It is expected that the number enrolled will be increased soon and there are already 25 other volunteers awaiting call-up.

Followed Route Of Columbus

Now Reach The Conclusion That Christopher Was A Great Navigator

Eight modern prototypes of Christopher Columbus who, on a four-months, 10,000-mile voyage retraced parts of the route taken by the Santa Maria, Nina and Pinta, arrived in New York convinced that as a dead-reckoning navigator Columbus has few equals.

Professor Samuel Elliott Morison of the Harvard University department of history, head of the expedition, his wife; Captain John W. McElroy of Boston; Clifton W. Anderson, expedition surgeon, and four members of the crew returned on the United Fruit liner Veragua from Kingston, Jamaica, where their exploratory voyage ended.

The expedition of 20 men sailed last September on the 100-foot ketch Capitania, named for the flagship of Columbus' third voyage, and the sailing vessel Mary Otis.

They dropped anchor first at the Azores, then visited Lisbon and headed south for Heulva, the Spanish port from which Columbus embarked on his first voyage. Then the expedition put in at Porto Santo and the Canary Islands.

On the western voyage the two vessels touched at Trinidad, followed the Central South American coast as far as Honduras and crossed the Caribbean to complete the voyage at Kingston.

The voyagers were guided by old manuscripts and records of Columbus' routes across the Atlantic. Their findings will go into the archives of "Columbus, Seaman and Discoverer."

"The voyage proved that Columbus was a very great seaman and navigator," said Morison.

Two groups of glaucous sun spots which appeared Dec. 30, and vanished 13 days later, are making a rare return engagement, a Franklin Institute scientist has reported.

"About forty millions of florins."

"All right," said the banker. "There are 40,000,000 people in Germany; that will be a florin apiece. Here's yours."

More Speed In Air

Size Of Plane Wings Cut By Invention Of Engineer

The successful conclusion of a 10-year search for a means of reducing the lift of airplane wings—and thereby open a new avenue to increased speed—was announced by Prof. E. A. Stalker, head of the department of aeronautical engineering at the University of Michigan.

In a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences at Columbia University, Prof. Stalker described a system which permits a reduction in an airplane's wing area by two-thirds.

As a result, he said, the speed of a plane having a top rating of 400 miles an hour could be boosted to approximately 500 miles an hour.

Used without a reduction in wing area, the Stalker invention would reduce the landing speeds of airplanes almost by half.

His device, he told the institute, permits high rates of climb and low speed of descent without the usual danger of losing lateral control, loss of which, with resulting stalls and spins, has accounted for as much as 80 per cent. of airplane accidents.

Predicts Trouble In Japan

British Admiral Thinks Country Will See Internal Flare-Up

Vice-Admiral R. V. Holt, home-bound after two and a half years as British senior naval officer on the Yangtze river in China, said Japan is in for an "internal flare-up."

"The whole trouble with Japan," he told interviewers at Vancouver, "is that the people are not properly informed as to what is happening. There is some friction between the army and navy due to the fact the emperor's commands are often differently interpreted."

Admiral Holt said, he believes that the Japanese navy is more friendly toward Britain and more aware of the importance of maintaining good relations with other powers than other quarters in Japan.

Canada Mourns Death Of His Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir

Montreal.—Canada's governor-general, Lord Tweedsmuir, 64, died Sunday night, ending a five-day battle which all Canada watched tensely and whose sudden termination plunged Canadians into sorrow.

Death occurred at 5:13 p.m., M.S.T., following the blocking of an artery in his brain and a fall and concussion which occurred at Ottawa on Tuesday. Three cranial operations were performed, the last one Sunday afternoon at the Neurological Institute here.

The one closest to him, Lady Tweedsmuir, stayed near him to the end. Then, with her son, Hon. Alastair, and her lady-in-waiting, Mrs. George Paper, she left the building where death had occurred with bowed head. She embraced the supervisor of nurses, Miss Eileen Finnegan, as she stepped into her car.

Death of Lord Tweedsmuir occurred when a sudden blood clot in the veins of his legs brought an end to the stand which his body had made against three cranial operations.

The operations were required by pressure which resulted from the blocking of a brain artery on Tuesday.

Since he became governor-general in 1935 he had become known to Canadians everywhere through his travels which carried him from populous cities to the Arctic ocean. They came to know him personally as Lord Tweedsmuir, the man they had known for years through his writings as John Buchan.

Canada, as well as the remainder of the British Empire, suffered a great loss in the death of His Excellency, Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada. He was famous as a statesman, traveller, author and speaker, and had gained much favourable recognition in the United States during his tenure in Canada. Author, soldier and administrator, Lord Tweedsmuir came to be recognized early in his career as one of those figures who leave upon an age the definite print of their work. A life characterized by great industry was crowned by high achievement—all the higher when one takes into full account the comparative obscurity of his origin.

Got Important Information

French Patrols Succeeded In Getting Far Behind German Lines

Paris.—French patrols, filtering deep behind the German lines, were credited with having gathered highly important information regarding German military positions in the sector to the west of the Sauer river. According to army quarters, the French patrols succeeded in worming their way past the German outposts without being detected and returned to their own lines without firing a shot.

Ration Paper Supply

London.—The supply ministry announced paper buyers would be rationed to 60 per cent. of their purchases during the same period last year.

Allies Concentrate French And British Troops In Near East

Paris.—Authorized French sources disclosed that France has 275,000 troops concentrated in the Near East under command of General Maxime Weygand.

These sources said the German and Russian estimates of the French force were wrong. Berlin had placed the figure at 150,000 and Moscow at 400,000.

Weygand, 72-year-old former chief of the French general staff and Marshal Foch's right-hand man in later stages of the last war, is in Egypt inspecting British and Egyptian defences. Lieut.-General Sir Archibald Wavell is commander-in-chief of British forces in the Near East.

Previous French statements have made it clear that should the war spread to the Near East, General Weygand would command the Allied forces.

Egypt is expected to serve as a reservoir for troops and supplies in the case the British, French and Turkish armies should make an attack against Russia's rich Caucasian oil fields, which according to The Associated Press, is forecast in some quarters as a probable development.

Istanbul.—Turkey, guardian of the Dardanelles, seized the German-owned Krupp ships on the Golden Horn and placed her own marines in charge.

The Turkish government, linked with Great Britain and France by mutual assistance pacts, at once discharged the German naval engineers and technicians who had been outfitting Turkish submarines in the huge marine works.

Confiscation of the Krupp works will be followed by government seizure of other German property in Turkey "sooner or later," it was reported authoritatively.

Official quarters refused to explain the shipyard seizure, declaring only, "spring is coming"—which many observers say may bring a Russian or German drive through the Balkans to seize the Dardanelles.

Red Cross Sends Food Parcels To Two Canadians

New York.—The Canadian Red Cross Society, from the London headquarters is sending food parcels eight times a month to the two Canadians who are prisoners of war in Germany.

Dr. F. W. Routley, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, said upon arrival here from Britain headquarters that the parcels are going to Pilot Officer R. M. Coote of Calgary and Pilot Officer Alfred Burke Thompson, Penetanguishene, Ont.

Coote, aged 22, was first reported missing Oct. 13. It was later revealed that he was shot down over the North sea and was picked up by a German boat after being six hours in the water. Thompson was captured after taking part in a raid over Kiel, Germany, early in the war.

Work For Peace

Nations Meet To Study World Economic Reconstruction

The Hague, Netherlands.—Delegates of 10 nations met to make a modest start on a study of world economic reconstruction and social betterment which, in the opinion of some European personages, may become the basis for a real and lasting peace.

The Netherlands, Great Britain, France, Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Norway, Portugal, Switzerland and Turkey were represented.

First on the agenda was the election of additional members to an eventual total of 24 nations. Six places are to be held for countries which have been members of the League of Nations but have resigned. No secret was made of the hope that the United States, even if it did not see fit to accept a seat, would co-operate, provided the committee could convince it that its work might prove fruitful.

Air Pay Scale

Men Of Royal Air Force In Canada To Be Paid The Same As Canadians

Ottawa.—Men of the Royal Air Force who have come to Canada to act as instructors under the British Commonwealth air training plan are being paid the same scale as corresponding ranks in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

This is in line with conditions drawn up when agreement was reached between the United Kingdom, Canada, New Zealand and Australia on establishment of the plan in Canada. Seventy-one officers and men of the R.A.F. are in Canada to act as instructors.

Already some of them have been granted temporary commissions in the R.C.A.F. for the duration of their stay in the Dominion.

Caused By Short Circuit

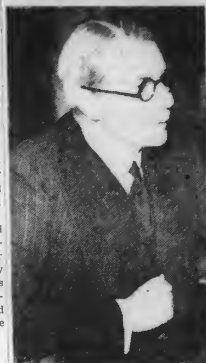

London.—An explosion buckled the sidewalk at the foot of the memorial to Nurse Edith Cavell near St. Martin's square. No one was injured. Investigation showed the explosion was caused by a short circuit in an underground electric cable.

Land In Britain

Third Contingent Of Canadian Active Service Arrive Safely

Somewhere in Britain.—Under the guardian wing of the Royal Navy, a third contingent of the Canadian Active Service Force has crossed the Atlantic and landed safely in Britain.

Like the contingent that arrived before it, the latest khaki wave of Canadian youth came unharmed. During the night grey troopships glided silently into harbor under cover of darkness and rode at anchor until morning.

Crowds thronging docks and promenades overlooking the harbor waved and cheered without knowing what part of the empire the convoy had come. They were kept in suspense until the first tender brought ashore its cargo of singing, whistling Canadians.

It did not take the crowd long to recognize the khaki-clad men. "Why, it's more Canadians," someone shouted.

The roar of greeting that followed rolled across the water and under the welcoming dim came the chorus: "Well Done Canada!" and "Bravo! Bravo!"

Not until the empire force had disembarked and dispersed to its allotted training camps was word flashed to the empire at large that a further contingent of Canadians had arrived.

The boys are busy settling down in their billets, sorting out their kit and equipment, and trying to find their land legs after a bit of tossing on the way across.

Canada Building Ships

Ottawa.—Three to four thousand additional men will be taken on in Canadian shipyards to cope with the government's shipbuilding program. The number already employed in ship construction is estimated at 2,000. The program envisages the construction of $50,000,000 worth of ships.

Two Nazi Submarines Are Sunk By Single British Destroyer

London.—Destruction of two German submarines—one of which was believed to have sunk the Canadian Pacific freighter Beaverburn—by a single destroyer of His Majesty's navy was announced by the admiralty.

The suggestion that the 9,874-ton speedy Canadian freighter may have been avenged promptly was put forward by usually well-informed source after the admiralty announcement.

These sources recalled that at the same time the freighter sank there was an unconfirmed report that a destroyer, scouting in the vicinity, had in turn bagged a U-boat.

The communique said: "The admiralty announced that two U-boats have been destroyed by one of His Majesty's destroyers. It is not the normal practice of the admiralty to announce the sinkings of U-boats as they occur, but an exception has been made on this occasion in view of the fact that the two U-boats were sunk by one destroyer whilst attacking a convoy."

Conservative estimates now are that about 40 U-boats have been destroyed since the war at sea started.

The communique came shortly after the Royal Air Force shot down a German bombing plane, damaged two others and scattered the rest of a series of German attackers attempting to sink British and neutral coastal shipping.

Reports from coastal points gave no confirmation to German claims that during the day their aerial raids had sunk or seriously damaged six merchantmen and two patrol ships. The German broadcast said one German plane was lost. "Enemy action," whether by planes, mine or torpedo, sent a Scottish freighter to the bottom off the northwest coast. The ship, the 5,406-ton Chagres, of Glasgow sank after an explosion, with two of her crew of 64 missing.

The German planes which the Royal Air Force's defenders caught and downed was a big black Heinkel which swung over the Fifth of Forth and dropped a bomb through the 102-ton dredger Foremost. Two of the dredger's crew of nine were feared lost when their lifeboat, pulling away from the crippled ship, swamped. The Foremost later reached port under tow.

As the Heinkel turned loose its guns on the Foremost, a British patrol of three swooped on the tall, guns spitting and they disappeared a few minutes later residents of North Berwick, near Edinburgh, saw the big raider crash in a suburban field.

Two other Nazi bombers registered a direct hit on a coastal steamship off the Scottish coast, shattering her hatches, damaging her bridge and machine-gunning the crew. The ship, not named in official reports, managed to limp into port. British Hurricane fighters racing to the scene fired bursts into the two raiders before they disappeared in a cloudbank, and official reports said it was believed both were "seriously damaged."

The British fighters chased away a Junker plane as it was bombing a tanker near Peterhead, Scotland, and attacked three Heinkel bombers were flying low over the water off Arbroath.

Fishing boats and trawlers up and down the coast also were bombed and gunned.

Airport Buildings

Contracts Let For Construction In Connection With Training Plan

Ottawa.—The transport minister, Hon. C. D. Howe, announced the letting of contracts by the war supply board for construction of buildings to be used in the Commonwealth air training plan.

During the week ended Feb. 3, Mr. Howe said, there were five such contracts totalling $402,060 of the $2,128,783 spent by the war supply board during that period. Two of the buildings will be built on British Columbia airfields, two in Ontario and one in Nova Scotia.

To Mountain Retreat

Berlin.—Adolf Hitler was reported to have left Berlin for his mountain retreat home at Berchtesgaden for the first time in many weeks. The report has not been officially confirmed.

Will Use Light Floats

British Admiralty Trying To Protect Lightships From Air Attacks

London.—Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, announced in the House of Commons that special measures would be taken to protect lightships as the result of German air attacks in which some members of lightship crews have been killed. Lightships, Mr. Churchill said, were never specially protected in war before and had always been regarded by civilized nations as outside the scope of bombing, consequently immune from attack. He declared light floats would replace ships in certain cases.

Would Help Finns

Port Arthur.—Al Cheesman, Port Arthur alderman, a prominent flyer, said he has advised a Finnish recruiting agency that he is willing to serve in the Finnish air force.

Chamberlain Says Allies Face Future With Calm Confidence

London.—Prime Minister Chamberlain said that "acts of murder" at sea by the German air force would not win the war for the Reich and announced, in one of his periodic "war progress reports" to the House of Commons, that the war is going the way Britain wants it to go.

At the same time he disclosed that new Allied aid "now is on its way" to Finland.

The prime minister combined a fierce indictment of Russia for using its "huge air fleets in a vain endeavor to shake the spirit" of the Finnish people by bombing homes and hospitals with high praise of Finland's "heroic struggle" and the assertion: "The help given from this country has been of real value to Finland."

Unofficially it was stated the first contingent of British volunteers may leave for Finland this week. These men all are over 27 years old, outside the classes likely to be called this year for Britain's own army.

Warplanes and other war material already have been sent to Finland from England, but the quantities remain undisclosed.

Mr. Chamberlain had stinging phrases for the three Nazi aerial invasions of British coastal waters last week.

The "killing of fishermen, merchantmen and lightship crews," he said, constituted "not war, but murder."

"Such acts of gangsterism can have little or any practical effect on the outcome of the war. They can only make us more resolved to carry on the struggle until civilization is purged of such wickedness. We face the future with calm determination and unshaken confidence."

Mr. Chamberlain said the decision of the Balkan states at their weekend meeting at Belgrade "to do everything in their power to maintain stability and security in southeastern Europe" was "most welcome, especially if, as I believe to be the case, other states of southeastern Europe have this important object equally at heart."

He also referred with satisfaction to the recent Anglo-Greek agreement on a number of financial and economic questions of mutual interest to both governments.

He paid tribute to the land, air and naval forces who have been operating in the teeth of adverse winter conditions.

He said German claims of great victories over convoys ships were "vauntings . . . poured out like a smoke screen to conceal stories of callous brutality as inhuman as any yet recorded of the enemy."

In conclusion he said: "We cannot tell how long the fight may last nor what stern trials may yet await us. But we have no reason to be dissatisfied with the opening phases of the war and we face the future with calm determination and unshaken confidence."

Drumheller Miners will make their final visit to Coleman tomorrow (Friday) night when they oppose Canadians at the local arena.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

MUNICIPAL elections, Federal and provincial elections, drives for various war funds, besides the ordinary daily duties which must be given attention, make these days too short to accomplish all we would like to. So the line has to be drawn if we are not to be driven to distraction. It appears that a newspaper publisher is regarded as having time to engage in all these activities and keep up his regular work, but it is impossible. One's work must be given first care if he is to be enabled to help in other activities.

TWO election campaigns running concurrently give one a headache. In Federal affairs we each stick up for the good old party, whichever we may claim adherence to, while in provincial affairs we try and find a solution to the mess and muddle of frenzied financing and crackpot theories of something for nothing. It is high time that electors generally, and particularly those who have been carried away by emotional appeals instead of logical reasoning, realize that the basic essential of sound provincial government is honesty, integrity and common sense, applying the same principle that we try to apply each to our individual affairs.

EXAMINATION of details of taxation and expenditures during the past four years by the provincial government reveals an alarming condition, which cannot be hidden behind radio dialogues and pamphlets printed at the taxpayers expense. The figures tell the story, yet it is regrettable that many will not bother to read them, and just listen to superficial vapourings of government spokesmen as being gospel truth.

A condition has developed, too, which demands action by thinking people in order to save the province from more disastrous experiences than we have witnessed in the past four years. The policy and actions of Premier Aberhart have encouraged people to ignore their obligations, to beat their creditors and to wreck the credit standing of Alberta. Under the cloak of religious appeal a most vicious continued campaign of veiled slander has been carried on, creating a far greater degree of ill-feeling than any one man in the public life of Alberta has ever been guilty of. Of this resentment is born the movement for independent political action under which will combine all those whose desire is for a return of honesty and sanity in handling the people's affairs.

NEXT TUESDAY at Lundbreck, geographical centre of this provincial constituency, a nominating convention will be held which will be open to all, which Labor representatives and electors of the Crows Nest area are urged to attend. The only qualification for attendance is that you are in favor of an independent candidate being placed in the field. This is a democratic method, in sharp contrast to that of a party which demands that you have a pledge ticket and consent to having a candidate named by the premier and his "star chamber" group.

FOLLOWING the local election campaign on Monday, in the course of good-natured bantering which followed, Anne-lo Gentile, newly elected councillor, in a mood of frankness and friendliness and brimful of pep and good intentions, outlined his policy. He proposes to agitate for the inclusion of East Coleman as part of the incorporated area, whereby the people there would be assessed for town taxes instead of paying Local Improvement District taxes to the provincial government. He also advocates the expenditure of sufficient money to surface the recreation field. Why not go further, and agitate for a decent municipal building, with an auditorium sufficiently large to hold community gatherings?

POPULAR SONGS IN WARTIME

WAR SONGS always have a popular appeal. They are easily learned, they have a swing which is given emphasis when played by an army band, and the words usually though not written with a view to be used exclusively by soldiers, and having nothing to do with soldiering, for some unexplained reason leap into popularity during a war. Everyone remembers "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," written long before the first Great War started, and which had almost faded into oblivion when it was revived as the marching song of the British Army and which the "Old Contemptibles" sang in 1914 as they marched to Mons under General French. Now we have "The Beer Barrel Polka," written over six years ago by a young man who in an attempt to overcome the depression caused by a long period of drought, brought forth the words, which, set to music in polka style, leapt into popularity with the Canadian Active Service Force. Another striking instance of popularity and which stirs the blood of every Canadian soldier when the band strikes up, is "Colonel Bogey's March." Its association with Salisbury Plain, Flanders mud and other trying experiences carries back one's thoughts to 1914-18 and the years that followed. Bands and war songs mean much to the soldier. Going back to earlier wars, there is remembered the charge of the Gordon Highlanders at the Heights of Dargai in the Indian Frontier War some years before the South African War, when Piper Findlater, though wounded in both legs, played "Cock o' the North" as his companions stormed the heights. Long may the popular war songs survive to not only cheer men going forth to war, but to bring back memories long after the conflict has passed.

STALWART is the man or men who will not be swayed by mob sentiment, who will withstand the criticisms and jibes of their fellows because they remain loyal to their principles, no matter what the cost. They may be called harsh names, and the going may be hard, but far better to retain their own self-respect than to succumb to coercion and become like sheep.

Mr. H. T. Halliwell,
Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Mr. Halliwell:
A recent copy of the COLEMAN JOURNAL brought me the very sad news of Mr. Morrison's death. I have met few men for whom I held greater admiration or more affection than I did for Mr. Morrison, and I shall always be proud of the fact that we were friends. Many times, after leaving the Crownst Pass, I entertained plans of going back to call on my political counsellor, to have one of those memorable visits with him that I had the privilege of enjoying so often in years gone by, and to talk about the experiences we had during the good old days. Now, with his passing, those pleasant anticipations have been regretfully abandoned, but the thoughts of our past association will be cherished always.

Cordially yours,
DONALD J. MacNEIL.

No Meeting of Ratepayers of S. D.

Confusion over the time of the annual meeting of ratepayers of the district resulted in there being no meeting. Though advertised for 7 p.m. on Friday last, through an error in an item in the news columns, it was given as 8 p.m. The group which came down at 8 p.m. found the hall empty, while the trustees who came at 7 p.m. found nobody there to hear their reports. Coming to the conclusion that ratepayers were not sufficiently interested to attend, they went home. Net result, no meeting.

As The War Proceeds

Canada's need for conserving her financial resources will undoubtedly increase and in addition to our ordinary trading with the U.S.A. we shall have to find gold to pay for extraordinary purchases of materials of war.

Hitherto coal has been one of the commodities we had to pay for in the U.S.A. as annual purchases by central Canada have approximated 15,000,000 tons annually. This represents a tremendous deflection from our mines and railways, as it comprises half the consumption of the whole of Canada.

By the use of CANADIAN COAL BY CANADIANS from now on the monetary equivalent of these foreign tonnages will accrue to the benefit of the people of Canada. Canadians must support a Canadian Fuel Policy to ensure steadier work to Canadian miners.

Besides, every retail and wholesale business serving the miners is directly affected in this vital matter.

JUNIORS TASTE FIRST DEFEAT

Fernie Juniors Take Over First Place in League

Coleman Juniors were set back on their heels last Thursday evening by Fernie Juniors for the first time this season by an 8-4 score. Previously the local youngsters had won two straight games. By their defeat they retain third place, while Fernie broke a first-place tie with Blairmore Juniors to take undisputed lead in the league.

Houghton, Kovac, Godfrey and Salvador were the Coleman snipers, while Anderson 3, Skilling 2, Burt 2, and Singleton scored for the winners.

COLEMAN MINERS ENTER INTERMEDIATE PLAY-OFFS

Blairmore's in First Round; Expect to Go Far in Play-Downs. Twelve teams in southern Alberta intermediate ranks will start the first round of the provincial play-offs for the right to meet the northern Alberta winners and the right to travel to Vernon, B.C., to meet the B.C. intermediate champions.

Coleman Miners are scheduled to meet Blairmore in the first round and should be able to hurdle that obstacle, they fully intend winning the provincial championship, and all they ask is a little support at their games.

CANADIANS SHUT OUT BY CALGARY 8-0

Calgary Stampers kept in the van of the senior Alberta hockey league on Monday night when they slapped an 8-0 defeat on Canadians at the local arena. Turner Valley kept pace with the leaders by taking Drumheller Miners into camp 4-3 at Drumheller.

Stampers scored two goals in the first and three goals in each of the second and third frames. Art Bice, Jones, while not over-worked, made several good saves in the third period, when Canadians tried hard to break the goalless egg.

X-L'S DEFEAT MACLEOD MIDGETS 8-4

Playing at Macleod on Saturday, Feb. 10, Coleman X-L's defeated the Macleod Midgets 8-4. Coleman, bolstered by Galicia and Cerny, defence aces of Blairmore Midgets, held a decided edge in play and only soft ice, which prevented good finish, prevented the score from being more lopsided.

The Hudz-Kests-Stagg line, with five goals, Cerny 2, and Galicia 1, accounted for Coleman's goals. Coleman: Godfrey; Galicia, Cerny; Kests, Hudz, Slugg; subs: Oslnchuk, Lant, Rypien, Biegun, Salvador. Team manager, Ray Spillers.

COLEMAN-BLAIRMORE INTERMEDIATE PLAY-OFFS - HERE ON SUNDAY

Coleman Miners will meet Blairmore here on Sunday night in the second game of their provincial intermediate play-off series. Total goals in both games to count.

Turn out Saturday for the first round in the Junior play-offs, Coleman vs. Macleod, at Coleman arena, at 9.15 p.m. Some real fast play is promised.

Mr. Gordon Nurcombe, who has been keenly interested in fostering Pee-Wee hockey, states it would help a lot if parents of the boys would show more interest by their attendance at games, thereby helping in providing equipment for the boys through the collection plate.

WHERE IS THE WATCH?

Enquiries have been made on several occasions in recent weeks concerning a watch which was supposed to be drawn for by Coleman Miners' Intermediate Hockey Club. Tickets were sold at the beginning of the hockey season, but so far no draw has been made.

Enquiry has been made by The Journal to Angelo Gentile, president of the team, and he states that only two men have so far turned in their money. Other solicitors claim they sold no tickets, but have so far failed to turn in the tickets in their possession, so that a check-up can be made by the executive.

The latter men should realize that it is poor policy on their part to retain the tickets. The public has bought tickets have been sold to warrant a draw for the watch, the public should be told so and refunded their money. Unbusiness-like management, which seems to have prevailed in this case, only tends to hurt a future draw which may be necessary to finance the team. Regardless of whether the draw is held or not, the executive should issue a statement to those who have bought tickets, as to what will be done with the money collected.

ECONOMY IN REVERSE

As an example of the type of economy Mr. Aberhart boasts so much of, it is likely the legislative members will be paid $2,000 each for a few days session. Another expense against the taxpayers will be the enumeration of voters, at 10c a name, which could have been done by copying the federal lists. But not here's another chance to strengthen the government machine and provide jobs for party supporters. Per capita taxation in the province has increased nearly 75 per cent in four years.

ANDERSON RINK WINS PONTIAC TROPHY

The Anderson rink, representing Coleman club, won the Pontiac trophy at the bonspiel held at Blairmore last week, rinks competing from Blairmore, Coleman, Bellevue and Pincher Creek. Personnel of the rink: J. Anderson, skip, Ed. Leier, Dr. Claxton and Pete Smith.

The rink won their way to the semi-finals of the Cote trophy and lost a hard-fought game to Bonne, of Blairmore. They defeated Stan Walker, of Pincher Creek, in the final of the Pontiac 10-8.

Two other rinks represented Coleman—Dow and Pruett. Both these rinks went well the first day, but fell down badly on the second.

PUBLIC MEETING

NOTICE is hereby given that a public meeting will be held on SAT. FEB. 17, at 8 p.m. in the ITALIAN HALL, Coleman, to which are invited mineworkers, industrial workers, businessmen and all who favor supporting an Independent candidate in the Alberta Provincial Election. Ladies are invited.

The Canadian Legion War Service Appeal

The Canadian Legion turns to the people of Canada for support of this great project. Those of you who serve in other capacities, in industry, commerce and finance, and in the Red Cross Society or in one form or another of war service, are all performing invaluable work. To you the Legion says: "Here is a duty for which only ourselves are fitter, or time is given freely, voluntarily, so is our money. At times our out-of-pocket expenses reach a point where we cannot cover them ourselves, so we ask you to make a small investment in the future of the men who are at present engaged in fighting for the Canadian system of Democratic government.

The national appeal urges your individual support and hearty co-operation, your money, no matter how small, your contribution can be an important factor in winning the struggle to which we have set our hands, and in winning that struggle making effective the retention of those privileges and the freedom to which we subscribe. To all you people of Coleman, help the Canadian Legion War service plan to-day for to-morrow." Signed, Ray Steurburt, H. Turner, B. Spevakow, R. Lloyd, E. Beart, canvassing committee.

400 B.C. IN ANCIENT ARMENIA

About the same time that the Greeks had adopted as a national beverage the brew called "Zythum" and "Zythos," the Armenians found it to their taste. It is mentioned in Armenian history, 400 B.C., by Zenaophon in his account of the retreat of 10,000 Greeks, who states that the people of Armenia at that time and earlier had used a drink made from barley.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Leslie Hore-Belisha, who resigned as secretary of state for war, announced he would return to newspaper work.

Reports from Germany said that six months' obligatory labor service for all men between 18 and 25 in the parts of Poland annexed by Germany has been decreed by the German government.

Formation of a syndicate to operate a trans-Atlantic air service between the Netherlands and the United States was disclosed in the annual report of the Holland-America Steamship line.

Purchase of the entire lot of buffalo hides from the slaughter at the Walbridge, Alta., National Park last fall was announced by the Prince Albert Fur Co. It was estimated the purchase involved between 1,800 and 1,900 hides.

A naval spokesman announced that women in New York and Washington have sent the British navy a variety of articles valued at about $20,000, and characterized it as an act of "supreme friendship". The goods included knitted goods, games, books, cigars and cigarettes.

Three to four thousand additional men will be taken on in Canadian shipyards to cope with the government's shipbuilding program. The number already employed in ship construction is estimated at 2,000. The program envisages the construction of $50,000,000 worth of ships.

Robert McGregor, principal of the Saskatchewan Technical Institute, announced a new school of radio communication would be opened soon. The school is designed to fit students for later service in the Royal Canadian Air Force and is under the auspices of the youth training scheme.

Employing Large Force

Staff of 40,000 Will Man Air Schools in Dominion

A staff of 40,000 is being assembled under the British Commonwealth air training plan to man air schools across the Dominion and probably 10,000 will be flying instructors.

Already hundreds of competent fliers have been enlisted from flying schools and commercial companies to assist the regular Royal Canadian Air Force instructors in teaching young Canadians to handle a military plane, but it has been anticipated that some American aviators also would be brought to Canada under the training plan.

Special provision has been made to allow Americans to serve with the R.C.A.F. and the necessary qualification of being a British subject to serve with the Canadian Active Service Force does not apply to the air force.

It was reported in New York that British agents are recruiting 35 American aviators for the air training plan and it was indicated that this number might be increased as the training progresses.

Letters Seized

Three letters addressed to Adolf Hitler were removed recently from air mails travelling from the United States to Europe by way of Bermuda, censorship officials disclosed. The chief censor would not reveal their contents. They were addressed, respectively, to "Herr Adolf," "Chancellor Hitler," and "Fuehrer."

Black Marble

Valuable Deposit Is Being Worked Near Ottawa, Ont.

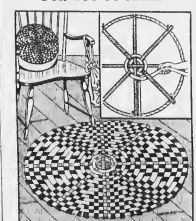

Canada has large resources of high quality black marble, located at St. Albans, Ontario, a little village about 30 miles from Ottawa, according to the Federal Department of Mines and Resources. Black marble from these deposits, known as "silversonite black," could supply the entire Canadian demand, and still be available in quantity for export markets. Although only on the market since 1931, when the quarry was opened, this black marble has been used in more than 30 large buildings located in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Guelph, Winnipeg, Vancouver, and other Canadian cities. Smaller quantities have been exported to the United States, which for many years has imported the major part of its black marble requirements from Europe.

A distinctive feature of the black marble from the deposits at St. Albans is the lacy network of calcite veins running through it, so fine that they do not modify the rich black colour, yet prominent enough to give the marble a silvery sheen of great beauty. The marble is sound, very fine grained, easily worked and takes a brilliant and lasting polish. It occurs in flat beds over an area one mile in length by one-half mile in breadth adjacent to the railway line between Ottawa and New York City. The beds of marble vary from 12 inches to 40 inches in thickness and the deposit has a depth of 55 feet. The wide spacing and regularity of the natural joints which intersect each other at right angles enable quarry operations to be carried on with a minimum of waste. Blocks up to 20 feet in length, 6 to 10 feet in width and 40 inches thick are obtainable in beds opened so far.

One of the most recent developments at the quarry was the uncovering of the 40-inch bed of black marble known as the eleventh bed, and which is remarkably free from flaws. Black marble of such thickness is unusual, and the uniform quality of the stone renders it suitable for the turning of monolithic pillars. Other uses to which the black marble is being put include wall panels, bases, borders, pilasters, counter tops, window sills, door trim, and many more. The demand for black and white effects in architecture and the assurance of uniform material have given this Canadian black marble a permanent and important market.

HOME SERVICE

GAY HAND-WOVEN RUG FUN FOR YOU TO MAKE

Quickly Weave On A Hoop

All you need for making a homey rag rug like this are a child's hoop, strips of inexpensive cotton or woolen cloth, in pretty colors—such as yellow and deep red. Or you may use leftover goods, old dresses.

For a rug 27 inches in diameter you require about 7 to 8 yards of red fabric (36 inches wide) and about 11 to 12 yards of yellow in the same width. Cut in strips 3 or 4 inches wide and fold to 1 inch.

Now, after winding a strip of old cloth around your hoop, stretch 4 red strips across it like spokes in a wheel, pin at ends and sew at centre. To weave, pin one end of a long yellow strip next to a red spoke, carry to centre and go over and under the spokes as our diagram shows. You get the pretty pattern of the rug in our picture by forming V's with extra spokes.

Do you have scraps left over? Weave a little pillow top to match. And fun to weave a smart sports bracket and belt set of wool or raffia on a cardboard "loom"—or place mats on a breadboard.

Easy instructions for making these, other attractive articles are given in our 32-page booklet. Includes items for personal use—such as purses and scarves—and for the home there are dollies, footstool and many more pretty and useful items.

Send 1c in coins for your copy of "How to Weave Use Novelty" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man.

The following booklets are also available at 1c each:

British Police

Much, but not too much, has been said about the calm of the Englishman when all his world seems falling apart. It is an attitude America should emulate; probably will, as we grow older as a people. The British pose is very largely a matter of maturity as a race. But, whatever the reason, their utter refusal to get hysterical even in the face of war is a triumph of adult civilization.—Malcolm W. Bingley, in Detroit Free Press.

Change Not Made

Because of the wide fluctuation of the Easter date, the British parliament passed a statute in 1928 setting Easter as the first Sunday after the first Saturday in April. But the change was to await international consent, and this has not been given.

GOOD CITIZENS AND GOOD NEIGHBORS

Golden text: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Matthew 22:39. Lesson: Matthew 22:15-23:39. Devotional reading: Romans 13:8-14.

Explanations and Comments

A Hypocritical Question, Matthew 23:17. The Pharisees were determined to compass the death of Jesus, but they had no power to enforce their law. Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in his talk. And they send to him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one or those regard not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not? But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why make ye trial of me, ye hypocrites? Show me the tribute money. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? They answer him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went away.

The Lawyer's Question, Matthew 22:34-40. "Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the law?" one of the Pharisees next asked, trying him, Matthew says. According to the Jewish Talmud there were 613 laws, some of them accounted "heavy" and some "light," and which was hotly disputed. The first commandment which Jesus gave in answer is quoted from Dt. 6:4, 5; it was called Shema, from its first word, and was repeated daily by every devout Israelite in his morning and evening prayer. The second commandment, from Lev. 19:18, Jesus declared like unto the first; both are the law of love, and the second is, in fact, included in the first, for one who loves God with all his powers will evince that love by loving his fellow-men. These two comprehensive rules include in their application all rules of the Decalogue.

"If that creed were obeyed and lived, there would be no war, no greed in the labor and capital world, no strikes, no poverty, no human misery." "On these two commandments the whole law hangeth, and the prophets." "Duty is a chain of many links, suspended from these two opposite staples." (James Stalker).

The National Association of Manufacturers accorded him the title at a banquet in Hartford, Conn., for his work in developing the noiseless typewriter, it was announced.

Rationing In Italy

In Italy people can buy 1-10 pounds of sugar per month, and the coffee ration is 1.7 ounces per person for a month. So most of the time they will have no sugar to put into the coffee they haven't got.

Many Quire Emblems Have Appeared On Coats Of Arms

Heraldry has been called the shorthand of history. There is scarcely anything which has not been introduced some time or another into a coat of arms. It is said that if you look for them you can find on certain coats of arms St. John's head on a charger, a locomotive, a sausage on a gridiron, a Noah's Ark, a telescope, a safety lamp, and a boiler flue.

Nothing that your ancestors have done can take away your right to a coat of arms. Nothing can remove that privilege even from yourself. A coat of arms is the arms, the helmet, the mantling, the wreath, the crest and the motto.

In North America there are at least 1,500 persons from about 300 English families who are entitled to coats of arms. Every year the College of Arms in London is visited by all kinds of men anxious for coats of arms, or to trace their pedigrees. About 150 grants of arms are allowed annually, and each of them costs £76, 10s.

Manufacturing Company Thinks Age Is No Handicap To Workers

Asking the question "should industry scrap its old men?" the Simmons Co., bedding manufacturers, in a full page advertisement published in Chicago, also answers it and in the negative. Stating that "to-day, a man's years hang heavy over his head," the advertisement says, "We, the Simmons Company, believe there is no good reason why a man's age should be his cross. The only time a man is too old to work for us is when he loses interest in his daily life. Some 70 per cent of the firm's employees, it said, have been with Simmons more than ten years, many of them for 20, 30, and 40 years. Explaining why it went to such an extent to lay so much stress on security and high wages, the firm says "the answer is simple. You have good people working for you . . . under good conditions . . . and for good wages."—New York Herald Tribune.

Not In That Class

A gangster rushed into a Chicago saloon, shooting right and left. "All you dirty skunks get outta here," he yelled.

The customers fled in a hail of bullets. All except one little Englishman, who stood at the bar calmly finishing his drink.

"Well?" snapped the gangster, waving his smoking gun.

"Well," remarked the Englishman, "there certainly were a lot of them, weren't there?"

Health LEAGUE of CANADA

presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

by DR. J. W. S. MCCULLOUGH

NUTRITION A NATIONAL OBJECTIVE

Recently the Minister of Pensions and National Health addressed a meeting of 1,500 people on "National Health Objectives in War-Time" in Toronto. While the speaker covered a broad field, he dealt especially with Nutrition, as he was guest speaker for the Health League of Canada, which utilized the occasion for the launching of a Nutrition programme.

mentioned, editorially, by "Health" in its current issue, the effort at the moment in Toronto is to attempt education of the public on a rather large scale, and it is hoped that the success of this effort will result in the plan being copied in other places.

There will be general agreement with the editor of the Health League's publication when he says: "It is quite likely that the serious consideration of nutrition as a definite national objective may have far-reaching results. We have discussed physical status from time to time with a more or less academic detachment. With the recent rapid advance of knowledge in the field of nutrition, however, we begin to realize that a nation's stature and physique may definitely be altered by the attention we pay to the food a nation eats. And since a nation is no stronger than the men and women who are its citizens, it seems likely that we may proceed to do something about it by paying a little more attention to the means of providing proper food for the civil population."

The results of the Toronto experiment may be far-reaching, as is pointed out, the writer adding: "Perhaps people will learn how widespread is the ignorance of how to choose, buy and cook food to the best advantage—and knowledge of these things will be of value to everyone."

"It may be that we will learn more than this. Perhaps we will find to our shame that there are large sections of the population who have insufficient income to buy the food for their children, which we tell them is essential to their growth. And one wonders what effect revelations such as these may have. For if we really desire to improve the nutrition of the average child we must do more than 'talk' about it. Education has its immediate significance. But it is the action which follows education which counts."

Editorial Note: Readers desiring the complete set of Dr. McCullough's cancer articles at once may secure same by writing to: The Health League of Canada, 105 Bond St., Toronto, Ont.

A Real Objector

George E. Bennet, a conscientious objector, who protested even against killing vegetables, was excused from military service and was allowed to register for non-combatant service. Bennet told the conscientious objectors' tribunal at London that he ate vegetables raw and thus absorbed their life, keeping them from being killed.
